

NEWS LATHERED FROM SOUTH SIDE

Skin Players Caught by Sergeant A. S. Wright Last Night.

TALK ABOUT EARLY CLOSING

Since Richmond Has Recommended Ordinance There Will Be Little Objection Here.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch.
No. 112 Hall Street.

Sergeant A. S. Wright was walking down Eighth Street last night, when he heard the rattle of the "bones" in an alley between Decatur and Hall Streets.

There was also some discussion about a deck of cards. A voice said that a card was marked. Another voice said that the first speaker was an uneducated blunderer of the truth.

"It's skin!" ejaculated the sergeant, and immediately he started to walk silently and peacefully upon a bunch huddled close in communion.

Wellford Finney, Crank Harris, James Pryor, Willie Harris and Willie Gray, however, went to the station house and paid to be released on bond for their appearance in court Monday morning. That was the answer of the stealthy group of the handsome sergeant.

The sergeant was the only person arrested in Manchester on the Saturday night.

The Early-Closing Ordinance.

The chief topic of discussion in Manchester yesterday was the action of the Ordinance Committee Friday night in recommending the ordinance of Assemblyman J. E. Brown to close saloons from 12 o'clock at night until 5 o'clock in the morning. The Assembly will first be called upon to act upon the measure, and then will be a final vote.

As originally drafted, the ordinance provided that the saloons should close at 11 o'clock at night and not open until 6 o'clock in the morning. An amendment was inserted in the committee, whereby the saloons should keep open until midnight and open at 5 in the morning. This was practically a victory for the saloonists, who appeared in opposition to the ordinance.

The ordinance will pass there is little doubt. The chief reason against it was that the people of the city would go to Richmond after the closing hour in Manchester. But since Richmond is likely to pass an ordinance to keep the saloons remaining open after 11 o'clock, this city has no protest to make.

Assemblyman Brown, in his argument for the ordinance, said that if Richmond passed an early closing ordinance he would be more in favor of this measure to Manchester, but that in the event that the city on the north bank of the James closed and Manchester did not, it would be doubly in favor of the closing here. "For," said Mr. Brown, "we will get the worst element of Richmond over here after the saloons there close."

Funerals Yesterday.

With impressive ceremonies the funeral of Mr. James T. Butler took place from Fairbridge Street Baptist Church yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment was made in Hollywood Cemetery. A delegation from Joseph E. Johnston Camp, Confederate Veterans, attended the funeral of the aged citizen.

Mr. Butler was one of the best known men of the city, and for two years represented the city of Lynchburg in the Legislature. He has lived in Manchester since 1895.

The funeral of Mr. Benjamin Porter, who died Friday afternoon at his home, on Decatur Street, near Fifth Street, will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be in Maury Cemetery.

The body of Mr. Robert S. Harrison was laid to rest in Maury Cemetery yesterday afternoon. Mr. Harrison died at his home, No. 316 Bainbridge Street, Friday. The Rev. C. O. Woodward, pastor of Cowardin Avenue Christian Church, officiated.

The Corporation Court.

The November term of the Corporation Court of the city will convene to-morrow morning. The grand jury will be in session also.

There are very few criminal cases on the docket. The majority of those to be heard being of a trifling nature. Mayor Maurice had three small cases before him yesterday. One negro paid $250 and costs for being drunk, and another had his case continued for shooting crap.

For the Christian Church.

Members of Cowardin Avenue Christian Church will give an entertainment in Leander Hall on Thursday night, November 23. The following will be the program:

Opening solo, double quartet, "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," children's chorus, Song, Louise Garber, in the dedication, Miss Helen Carroll. Patriotic drill, with fifteen little girls to represent the United States, and one boy, representing Virginia. Song, "Virginia," by children, ending

Prof. M. G. Green, a musical director of 133 East Wayne St., Lima, Ohio, who suffered agony from acute Bright's disease, and whose recovery was despair of, was restored to perfect health by a timely use of

A TRIAL BOTTLE OF THE WORLD'S GREATEST KIDNEY CURE SENT ABSOLUTELY FREE TO EVERY READER OF THE TIMES-DISPATCH WHO SUFFERS FROM KIDNEY, LIVER, BLADDER OR BLOOD DISEASE.

In writing of his surprising recovery after long continued suffering, Prof. Green says enthusiastically:

"In February, 1892, I was troubled with gravel. I did not have the slightest idea that anything serious was the matter with me, and hesitated to get medical advice on the subject, expecting that the trouble would pass off. However, matters got worse, and in the end of February, 1892, I was compelled to seek medical aid. I was at that time at a concert tour in the north of England. I consulted a physician, who informed me that I was suffering from acute Bright's disease. I suffered the most intense agony, indeed, myself and all my relations thought that I was past aid, so far as ultimate recovery was to be considered.

"A friend of mine, who had from personal observation become aware of the efficacy of Warner's Safe Cure in diseases of the kidney and bladder, urged me to at least give it a trial, to which I readily consented. Before taking the cure an analysis showed that my urine contained seventy-six per cent of albumen and tubular casts. I had not taken half a dozen doses of Warner's before I was markedly relieved. I put myself then in the hands of my medical advisers in London, who told me that while they did not consider my case hopeless, it was certainly one of the most extreme cases that had come under their observation. So far as my memory serves me, the first analysis made at your laboratory in London showed 84 per cent albumen. The analysis was shown to five competent medical men in my home town, and they were unanimous in saying that nothing on earth would reduce the albumen. Six weeks afterward they were shown another analysis which was one per cent, and were thunderstruck. They were then told what was being done. I have no hesitation in saying that had it not been for your valuable remedy I would have been dead thirteen years ago. Since then my health has been perfect.

Faithfully yours, Prof. W. M. G. GREEN, Musical Director.

To Keep Milk Sweet.

PARIS, November 17.—Professor Behring, of Marbourg, declares that he has discovered a method of keeping milk for an indefinite time without boiling it or adding any nutritive qualities in any way.

A sixth of an ounce of perhydrol is added to a gallon of milk, and the milk is then heated to 122 degrees. The perhydrol decomposes into water and oxygen, the oxygen escapes and the milk is left diluted with an exceedingly small quantity of water absolutely free from microbes, which is treated in this way, it is said, may be kept for an indefinite time without change.

Professor Behring is also said to believe that milk loses some of its best qualities when exposed to daylight. He is said to advocate green or red milk bottles.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

BLACKSBURG, VA., November 17.—A pretty home wedding took place here Wednesday afternoon at half-after 2 o'clock.

When Miss Mary Louise Wall was married to Mr. Robert Lee Williams, of Marion, Va. The large double parlors in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. M. S. Price, where the ceremony was performed, were decorated in evergreens, crimson carnations and scarlet autumn leaves, this color scheme being carried out in the shades darkening the windows and the chandeliers before which the Rev. J. M. Killian, of the Luther Memorial Church, read the marriage service.

The maid of honor, Miss Emma Wall, and the only other attendant, Miss Mary Stiff, led the way to the altar, followed by the best man, Mr. Adam Grosselove, and Mr. George Collins, of Marion. The bride wore a gown of white satin, made on train, with a veil of white tulle, the latter being caught at the brow with an exquisite pearl pin.

For the entrance of the bride party Mrs. J. P. Harvey, at the piano, played the usual wedding marches, Mr. Harvey accompanying her on the organ.

Following the ceremony, luncheon was served to the guests from small tables in the dining-room, after which Mr. and Mrs. Williams drove to Christiansburg to take the eastbound train for their wedding trip.

Mr. Williams is Commonwealth's Attorney of Smyth County, at Marion, Va. His bride is a daughter of the late Floyd Wall, of Smyth County, and a graduate of the Cooper Art School, of New York.

HER DYING CRIES WERE NOT UNHEARD

Prosecuting Attorney Springs a Sensation in Case of Chester Gillette.

HERKIMER, N. Y., Nov. 17.—That the dying cries of Grace Brown were heard by a witness, who will be called by the State in the trial of Chester E. Gillette, charged with the murder of his sweet-heart, was the declaration of Attorney George B. Ward, who made his opening speech to-day. After describing the trip of the prisoner and Miss Brown to Moose Lake, in the waters of which the girl was later recovered, and a struggle on the shore, the prosecutor said: "And that night, as he struck that girl, and her last death cry echoed over the lake, there was a witness to all that, and she will be here to tell you about it."

The prosecutor's remarks created something of a sensation, as it was the first intimation that the State would rely on other than circumstantial evidence to convict Gillette. The general impression in the courtroom was that the witness referred to had actually witnessed the death scene, but to-night Mr. Ward said that he did not mean to convey the suggestion that he had secured an eye-witness of the tragedy. The prosecutor would not reveal the identity of his witness, who he said was a woman.

At the session to-day, which was concluded at noon, when adjournment was taken until Monday, the twelfth juror was secured.

MERCHANTS MOVE TO BREAK UP PEDDLING

Make Charge Against Man Who Was Fined Heavily in Police Court.

With an idea of breaking up peddlers in the city the Retail Merchants' Association made a charge yesterday against Charles Bearman, of Washington, and in Police Court the accused was fined $250. He promptly paid the amount, and it is said that he will leave Richmond.

Bearman, it is alleged, sold ready-made clothing to women. When arrested he was peddling goods on Mayo Street. He has been in the city for some time, and the police were told of what he was doing by members of the Retail Merchants' Association.

The merchants declare that they cannot compete with men who peddle goods without paying any license, and the officers have been instructed to be on the lookout for any person who is thus selling goods.
